President will bring many Republicans of less prominence into the field, already s. mewhat overstocked. One candidate who was spoken of in Washington yesterday has to-day dropped out of the race, which he says he never entered. This is Col. Frederick D. Grant, whose friends have made it known in Washington that it was all a mistake about Mrs. Potter Palmer being in favor of his candidacy and about to open beadquarters in his behalf in St. Louis. One explanation sent to Washington is that Commissioner Grant's younger brother, Ulysses S. Grant, is a delegate from California, and that there is a movement on foot in that State to bring about the nomination of a Paoffic coast Republican for the Vice-Presidency, If this plan is carried out, Mr. Grant's name might be presented to the Convention.

It is now the programme of the McKinley managers to induce all of the Presidential car-didates to follow the lead of Bradley of Kendidates to follow the lead of Bradley of Kentucky and announce their withdrawal from the contest. The candidate with the least visible support is Quay of Fennsylvania, and on him the McKinieytes are bringing their best efforts and their most specious arguments to bear. Ever since Senator Quay visited the wabbling candidate at Canton, hints have been sent out from the headquarters at Cleve land that the nomination of McKiniev will be made by acclamation as one by one the other candidates would withdraw. No authentic account has yet reached Washington of what took place between the candidate and Senator Quay at the Canton conference, and all that the Senator is willing to say about it is that his talk with McKiniey was quite satisfactory to both.

Quay at the Cancen conference, and all that the Senator is willing to say about it is that his talk with McKinley was quite satisfactory to both.

Direct from Mark Hanna's office in Cleveland comes the statement that the conversation between the candidate and the Senator was of the most general character, that no reference to the Vice-Presidency was made, and that Mr. Quay departed little wiser than when he came as regards the place he will occupy in the Administration should McKinley be nominated and elected. The McKinley managers still endeavor to create the impression that Quay was not invited to Canton, although the Senator is very emphatic in saying that he was. However that may be, the McKinleyites announce with much emphasis to-day that Quay will not be a candidate before the Convention and that announcement of his withdrawal will be made within a few days.

All of the McKinley men is Washington continue to declare that the St. Louis platform will be perfectly satisfactory to the Republicans from the East, and from New England especially, are very much concerned about this part of the work of the Convention. It is the general ordinon of Republicans here that Senator Sherman, who is a warm personal and political friend of Major McKinley and of the men who are conducting his campaign for the momination, who is a warm personal and political friend of Major McKinley and of the men who are conducting his campaign for the momination, who is a warm personal and political friend of Major McKinley managers to leave the work of the Convention. It is the general ordinon of Republicans here that Senator Sherman, who is a warm personal and political friend of Major McKinley managers to leave the work of the Convention of the financial plank, and simply declars the opposition of the ficultileran party to the free coinage of silver. The McKinleyites claim that this would be no straddle, as it would be accompanied by a declaration in favor of the maintenance of the existing standard. This boldness is exhibited only in p candidate was warmly supported and warmly assailed.

"It was said of him, on the one hand, that he was thoroughly loyal and competent. It was said of him, on the other hand, that he was an ardent sympathizer with the South and incompetent. Mr. Lincoln said he was reminded of one of his old neighbors to Kennicky, whose fine horse jumped the nasture fence and ran away. The man and his two sons started in search of the animal. One of the boys went up one bank of the creek and the other on the other bank. Now one of the boys would call out, 'I see signs of him here, daddy,' and then the other would cry, 'I see signs of him here, daddy,' and then the other would cry, 'I see signs of him here, dadidy.' Finally the old man, worried and puzzled, exclaimed, 'I'm damned if I don't believe he's on both sides of the creek.' so with McKinley and silver. There are signs of him on both sides of the question, but of course he'll stand on the St. Louis platform, and that, in its essence and meaning, will be gold."

THEY CROWD RHODY A LITTLE. The Rival Vice-Presidential Booms Stir Up the State.

PROVIDENCE, June 3 .- The rival booms of | Gov. Lippitt and ex-Gov. Brown for the Vice-Presidency are beginning to assume serious proportions in the eves of their promoters. There were few persons hereabouts who believed any foundation for the early reports that these men were ambitious for the nomination of Vice-President on the Republican ticket, attributing the stories to the focularity of newspaper men. Recent developments have dispelled all those illusions, however, and now pretty much the entire State is amused at the struggle these men are making.

All manner of fun has been poked at both men with no effect. Notwithstanding the criticism they are going ahead spending money and conducting their campaigns in a systematic manner. Lippitt's circular, which has been referred to by THE SUN, was so secretly prepared that it was impossible to procure a copy in the State, and its contents were not known here until an abstract was telegraphed from Wash-

State, and its contents were not known here until an abstract was telegraphed from Washington.

Brown was not to be outdone by the Governor, and he fortiwith contracted with a firm of button makers, and Brown buttons are now being worn by the wags of the town. It is understood that a large number of these buttons will be sent throughout the South and West, and a lot of them are being turned out for distribution at St. Levis. Lippitt, it is understood pins his faith to Mark Hanna, who, it is reported, assured him that he stood as good a chance for the nomination as any man in the country. Lippitt has been an out-and-out Mckiniey man from the start. Personally he doesn't cut much of a figure in solitics, although he thinks he does. It was with this estimate of his own importance that he stormed around previous to the recent State Convention looking for the men who had the boldness to pleige the State for Reed. He found out later that his Mckiniey; sm had no effect on the Republican State managers. The fact that he was for McKinley in the face of strong opposition he expects will have weight with the friends of the Ohio statesman.

Brown, on the other hand, plus his faith to the League of Republican Chubs. At the last. National Convention of these clubs he was put forward by the Rinde Island representatives as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency, and he is hugging the bellef that the members of these clubs are all-towerful in their respective localities, and are working for him tooth and nail. Brawn has already engaged headquarters at 5t. Louis and Lippitt will follow suit. The latter has not completed arrangements at the St. Louis and Lippitt will follow suit. Nominated. CANTON, O., June 3 .- Cantonians who cannot go to St. Louis employ their time these days in arranging for the proper receipt of and demonstration over the news of McKinley's nomination. One crowd conceived of the idea and is now arranging to plant a small cannon on the roof of the County Court House and have a heavy charge fired when the nomination is an-nounced. Of course, if McKinley misses the nomination the cannon will miss fire. Another arrangement about completed is to connect the big gong of the city fire alarm, which can be heard for miles, with the press wire and have a code of signals to announce that a nomination has been made and whether or not McKinley is

BRADLEY STILL IN THE RACE. A Dental that He Has Withdrawn from the Republican Contest,

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 3.-The report sent out from here last night announcing the withdrawal of Gov. Bradley from the Presidential race is authoritatively denied. Cheirman Barnett of the Republican State Central Committee was seen to-night just as he was coming from a two hours' conference with the Governor, and he said the latter had not even suggested in the remotest way that he had any idea of quitting the fight.

Mr. Barnett will leave in the morning for Washington, where it is believed he goes as representative of Gov. Bradley to confer with the Republican leaders.

OREGON'S ELECTION.

The Popullats Win at Least One Congress. man Mitchett's Chances in Doubt.

PORTLAND, June 3.-Election returns from outside countles continue to come slowly, but they indicate that the next Legislature will be Republican by a good majority. Chairman Hirsch of the Republican State committee claims sixty members of the ninety-one on joint ballot, including twelve hold-over Senators. Of these thirty-one are known to be elected, and he concedes ten Populists elected with one hold-over and two Democrats. There are thus far fifty-six members know to have won and forty-four yet to be heard from. Of the latter fifteen are in Multnomah county, all of whom will be Republicans. The only contest in Portland is between the regular Republican nominees and the Mitchell Republicans. The important question is whether Senator Mitchell will have enough for reflection. Should be carry Multnomah county his reflection is assured.

Returns from thirty-two precincts of Multnomah county out of seventy-three in the city give the regular Republican legislative ticket 1,292 and the Mitchell ticket 1,539. GETTING READY AT ST. LOUIS. Sergeant-at-Arms Byrnes Begins His Nu-

Sr. Louis, June 3.- Sergeant-at-Arms T. E. Byrnes of the Republican National Convention arrived here from Minneapolis last evening. He will remain here till the close of the Convention. His first act was to open the headquarters of the National Committee at the Southern Hotel. The first thing Mr. Byrnes will do will be to appoint subordinates, consisting of 500 | ge assistant sergeant-at-arms, 300 doorkeepers, 400 ushers, 200 messengers, and 100 pages. The National Committee will meet here on June 10 to ratify Mr. Byrnes's selections. With the committee will come 2,000 friends of the dif-ferent candidates and representatives of the various State and Territorial delegations. There are on file 3,000 applications for appoint-ment by Mr. Byrnes. The 5,000 badges for delegates, alternates, and employees of the Convention members of the National Committee and distinct the National Committee, and distinguished per-sons especially invited are now in the hands of Mr. Byrnes. The press badges are specially rich and unique. The top piece is of gold, and ro a ribbon of silk, which bears the proper inscrip-tion, is a pendant silver scroll and tasse. All of the badges are of ornate design, and will be valuable souvenirs. Mr. Byrnes also has the tickets in hand, and is reading applications for them. The distribution of tickets and badges will begin at once,

ECRELS FOR GOVERNOR.

Sound-money Democrats in Illinois Want Him as Their Candidate.

CRICAGO, June 3. On account of his adancing years and increasing infirmities, Senator Palmer declines to become the candidate of the sound-money democracy for Governor of Illinois. News of his declination reached Chicago yesterday and a boom was at once started in favor of the nomination of James H. Eckels of Ottawa for Governor on the sound-money Democratic ticket. Mr. Eckels holds the office of Comptroller of the Currency, but it is be-lieved he would resign this place to make the race for Governor of Illinois as the candidate of

"In my opinion," said Henry S, Robbins, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Sound-money League, "James H. Eckels is the best man that could be named to lead it he cound-money movement. He understands the currency question thoroughly, and can discuss it intelligently and forcefully. He is a young man, full of nervous energy, and is a pleasing speaker. I am satisfied that he would be a chance of his election. However, the question of electing anybody is not of great importance fust now. The question of saving the Democratic party from diagrace is much more important than the success of any candidate."

SCHOPIELD AND TELLER NOW.

Silver Democrats Reverse Their Ticket and Piace the General at the Head,

Washington, June 3.—The Gen. John M. Schofield Presidential boom seems to be growing in Washington. For some reason the sliver Democrats take much more kindly to the name of Schofield than they do to that of Teller. The more influential ones insist that if the freesilver Colorado Republican is to get a place on the ticket, it must be the second place, and that Schofield must have the first. The General is still regarded as an ideal can-

The General is still regarded as an ideal candidate because he has no public record whatever except that he took a stand in favor of law and order during the labor riots. His views on the currency and tariff are not known, and the silver bemoerats who are advocating his nomination don't want to find out what his views are, if, indeed, he has any. Senator Teller said to-day that he does not expect to be nominated either for President or Vice-President on any ticket, but he does not deny that he intends to bolt the St. Louds Convention if an anti-silver lost the St. Louis Convention if an anti-silver platform is adopted. Yesterday the talk among the silver Democrats was all about Teller and schofield. To-day it is reversed and the favorite combination is Schofield and Teller.

William Ivison's Will. The will of the late William Ivison, who left personal property of the amount of $617,000. was filed yesterday in the Surrogate's office. The testator left to a servant named Mary Ann Sheridan, who was in his employment for many years, the sum of $10,000. The Platt machinists added that they were delighted to learn that their factional Business adversaries comprised so many men of astound-ing political wisdom and fighting qualities They did not believe, however, that these anti-Platt Republicans controlled anything like what they claimed, and then these wicked Platt men began to tear the list to pieces. Their summary of the strength of the anti-Platt men was as tollows: John E. Milhelland - Does not and cannot conarready elected his delegates in Renselar county, and Morris could not control a single thought in one of their heads.

And so it was through the entire list. The Plate rities wound up by saying:

"There is many a lade Acres in the anti-Platt camp, and this will be demonstrated at the Republican State Convention, when the regular Republican organization of the State will control at least two thirds of the State will control at least two thirds of the State will concamp, and this will be demonstrated at the Republican State Convention, when the regular Republican organization of the State will control at least two-thirds of the Tod delegates."

The anti-Flatt men are relying to a great extent on the promises of Federal patronage, which they believe will come to them if Mr. McKinley is nominated and elected. No doubt the promises which they believe will come to them if Mr. McKinley is nominated and elected. No doubt the promises which come to them. The plain and indisputable fact, though, is that the President of the next Administration will have exactly 77.5 places to hand out to the Republicans in all the States, and that New York will only have its percentage of this number. President Cleveland has put all but a very small part of the Federal patronage in the civil service class. The regular Republican organization of the State, according to those last night who spake for it, said that they did not care a copper for Federal patronage, as there was not enough of it to give each aspirant even a moreel of comfort, whils the lack of it will create all sorts of trouble for the Administration that attempts to use it for any particular purpose. On the other hand, the regular Republican organization of the State has the canal patronage, the Raines Liquor law patronage, and if they elect the Legislature and their candidate for Governor this fall they will have all of the was joines that will accrue from the Greater New York measure.

The anti-Platt men in New York county cannot do anything further for their followers, for the reason that Mayor Strong and his subordinates haveniready exhausted the patronage at their command in an effort to defeat the Platt-Lauterbach Republicans and have niterly failed. This means that the Grace folks will have one-third representation in the Convention. They belief the State Convention last year, or rather refused to enter it with the one-fift representation which was accorded them. They will not have such a proportion of representation on the national delegation, the reason being that some representative Democrats not affiliated with any local organization will be sent from this city to Chicago. The selection of these men, who will be sent specially to champion the cause of sound money, will necessarily make the representation of Tammany organization men very small, and it will not be possible to send more than three active Grace Democrats on the national delegation.

When he took a lease of the Garrick Theatre he spent a good deal of money in fixing He arranged to open the theatre in May, 1895, with a play called, if I remember aright, the 'King of Peru.' The day before the theare opened regular July weather came along. The opening night was so hot that one wouldn't have been able to keep cool in an ice box. People didn't want to go to a theatre a night like that, and they didn't. Most of the scats that had been ordered by telegraph and telephone were not taken. As a result the house wasn't more than half full.

Mr. Sayres had made a note on the inside of the cover to the effect that the book had cost him $40, and that "Mr. Gardner's copy had fetched £46." The book is dated 1551. It was sold to Mr. Whiting for $12.

A Collins Bible, printed in Greaton in 1816 by Collier & Co., in which Mr. Sayres had written, "I was born Jan. 3, 1816," went to John Fleury for $1.10. "The next morning all the papers came out with statements to the effect that Mansfield ought to have known better than to have opened the thearre with an old play. They said that when New Yorkers went to a theatre in hot weather they wanted something new. As a metter of fact, the play was written for Mansfield. It had never been played anywhere by anybody before, and it was a pretty play. However, the newspapers killed it at the beginning, and it proved a losing venture. Not long after that the piece was taken off and the theatre closed for the summer after the cnagement of 'Thrilly' had been played.

OHIO FREE SILVERITES. Waiting to See What the Chicago Convention Will Do.

COLUMBUS, O., June 3.- The free-sliver conference here to-day was not as largely attended as its projectors expected. Only the radical wing of the silver party was represented. Henry T. Niles of Toledo was Chairman and E. D. Stark of Cledeland, who was the Populist candidate for Attorney-General of the State candidate for Astorney-General of the State two years ago, was Secretary, Gen A. J. Warner, President of the National Bimetailie League, addressed the conference upon the plans of the National Silver Convention which is to be held at St. Louis on July 23. He said he believed that the National Democratic Convention would adopt a free silver platform, and if they did it would not be necessary to hold the silver Convention; but it would not do to presume that the Convention and A. J. Warner were chosen delegates at large to the silver Convention. A committee was appointed to select the digrict delegates men who will be satisfied with nothing short of a monarchy.

"Why, Strong, your Mayor, could not have passed a civil service examination for the place he holds. Don't you remember that after his cirction he said he was going, at Mayor Gilroy's invitation, to attend the meetings of the Boards of Estimate and Apportionment? He thought there were two Boards. There isn't a voter in the Second Assembly district who doesn't know better.

Then there is Teddy of the Police Board. He was the High Priest of the reform in Washington. He abborred the short system. He never wanted patronage. Farker and he went about talking together in the churches. Parker patted Teddy on the back and told him he was hot stuff, and everything went along well till Teddy found that Parker was grabbing all the patronage in the Police Department and Teddy couldn't get what he wanted. Then there was trouble, epithets were bandled, and a line spectacle of reform was furnished.

"In 1894 the Republicans won a big victory, Where are the fruits of it? There were 20,000 Tammany men holding place in the municipal administration then. They are there yet. If they had been ousted and 20,000 Hepublicans put in their place, there would be a Republicans we had better not anticipate."

Mr. Gruber then point his respects to E. L. Godkin, who, he declared, was a spellsman posing assa civil service reformer. In proof of his assertion be said that, through Godkin the latter's influence, Godkin the son had been getting references and commissionerships, and his last "graft" was that of counsel to the commany which has secured the garlage contract from the Siree! army. Having learned the Arabic language, he went to Morocco in 1800, where he lived some time in the then almost unknown city of Fez and travelled widely in the country in Mohammedan attire. In 1802 he revealed to the world the cases of Taillet in the Nahara. In 1803 he explored the eastern part of the Greater Atlas and pushed south to Tuat in the desert.

In 1805 he started on his famous journey from Tripoli to Lake Tohad, crossed the Central Soudan States of Bornu and Sokoto, reached the Benue branch of the Niger, and descended to the mouth of that river. This journey ranks among the greatest of African explorations.

Ronlis took part in the British expedition against Anyssinia in 1807. He travelled in 1808 across the northern part of the great Libyan desert and discovered the depressions below sea level south of the Mediterranean coast plateau. These are among the very few areas in Africa that lie below the level of the sea. The years 1873 and 1874 were also spent by Rohlfs in researches in the Libyan desert at the expense of the Khedive.

Rohlfs was the bearer in 1880 of a letter from the Greman Emperor to King John of Abyssinia. In 1885 he was appointed German Consul-general at Zanzibar, but he soon resigned and settled in Weimar, the home of the musician Liszt. His writings were voluminous and valuable, but only his book describing his adventures in Morocco has been translated into English.

KILLED A GERMAN OFFICER.

KILLED A GERMAN OFFICER. The German Squadron in Chinese Waters

Ordered to Nankin. London, June 3.-The Globe publishes a des patch from Shanghai which says that since the return of the Viceroy Liu Kun Yih to Nankin the German officers who were loaned to China by Germany to drill the Chinese troops have been repeatedly insulted, hope being entertained that they would resent the insults by resigning.

This practice not having the desired result, the Chinese have resorted to violence, ending in the murder of a German officer named Krause, by the Hunan bodyguard of the Vice roy, and the German squadron has been or-dered to proceed to Nankin forthwith. It is be-lieved, the despatch says, that all of the Ger-man officers in the Chinese service will resign.

TROUBLE IN THE TRANSVAAL. Krueger's Projects for Reform Meet with Serious Opposition.

LONDON, June 3 .- The Times to-morrow will publish a despatch from its Pretoria correspondent, saying that the trouble in the Executive Council of the Transvaal is becoming acute. Dr. W. J. Leyds, the Secretary of State, and Vice-President Joubert opposed President Krüger, who is in favor of the institutions of reforms and the adoption of a peaceful policy Dr. Leyds, the correspondent adds, is extremely unpopular with the people of the republic.

BERNE, June 3.- The Swiss National Council to-day passed resolutions expressing regret that the United States Government had failed to reply to the proposal for a treaty of arbitration, and requesting the Federal Council to ask for a categorical answer to the proposal.

President Lachenal, although sharing in the regret expressed by the Council, declined to endorse the full resolutions.

LIBERAL FICTORY.

They Gain a Sent in Parliament and 916 Votes in the Polling.

LONDON, June 3. The Parliamentary election Somerset to fill the seat in the House of Commons, made vacant by the succession of Viscount Weymouth, Conservative, to the peerage, upon the death of his father, the Marquis of Bath, was held yesterday and resulted in the Bath, was held yesterday and resulted in the election of Mr. J. E. Barlow, Home Ruie Liberai, by a vote of 5,002 to 4,703 cast for Mr. Thynne, the Conservative candidate. In the last election—1895—Viscount Weymouth was elected by a majority of 617, receiving 4,000 votes to 4,043 polled by the constituents of Mr. Barlow, The Liberai majority in the division this year is 299, representing a Liberai gain of 916 votes and a gain of a seat in the House of Commons. The Parliamentary election in the Wick district yesterday, to fill the seat in the House of Commons made vacant by the resignation of Sir John Pender, Liberai-Unionist, resulted in the return of Mr. T. C. Hedderwick, Home Ruier, by a majority of 212, the vote standing Hedderwick, 1,034; W.C. Smith, Unionist, 82. The result of the polling shows a gain for the Liberals.

THE THREE PRIENDS FIRED OF BY A SPANISH WAR SHIP.

Rose Of the Cuban Coast that Lasted Sereral Bours. The Three Friends Sent One Shot at the Gunboat-Men and Arms Safely Lunded in Cuba-Cargo SheCarriod JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 3.-The steamer Three Friends, which left this port on May 23 with a heavy cargo of arms and ammunition and 100 men for Cuba, returned at 2:30 o'clock this morning after a successful and exciting trip under direction of Capt. N. B. Broward.

On Thursday, May 28, when dawn broke, Capt. Broward saw behind him, bull up on the horizon, one of the Spanish cruisers. They spied each other about the same time, for as soon as the Three Friends quickened speed the cruiser also did so and soon curls of foam parted from her bows and her smokestack beloned black smoke. There was a flash from her bow gun which brought 100 scared men to the deck of the Three Friends, but the missile fell short.

She landed every man and every cartridge into the hands of a strong band of insurgents in Santa Clara province, on the south side of the

It was a race then for life. Capt. Broward knew that the breaking of a pin would mean death for him and all his men, and so he put on steam gently, but finally found it necessary to "hook her up," and to make his stokers work like devils to outrun the Spaniard. Shot after shot was fred by the cruiser until out of pure exasperation Capt. Broward had a 12-pounder loaded and spoke back.

The gunboat perceptibly slackened speed and by noon the military top of the Spaniard was below the horizon astern. The remainder of the voyage was plain sailing, the cargo being landed in a covered hay at night.

voyage was main sating, the cargo being landed in a covered bay at night.

The Three Friends left here estensibly for Key West and was escorted nine miles to sea by the revenue cutter Boutwell. Beyond this limis the tugs Lillian H. and Kate Spencer delivered to her 100 Cubans. The Three Friends did not touch at Key West at all, this not being necessary where there was no clearance from this port.

Word was received yesterday by the Cuban Junta that the steamer Three Friends had landed safely in Cuba a big cargo of ammuni-tion for the patriot army. The expedition was in charge of Dr. Rafael Portuondo Tamayo, the Secretary of Foreign Affairs of the new republic, who returned to the island after a stay of four months in the United States. Second in command was Alberto Couspeire, an officer of the French army, though a Cuban by birth. There were also among the party J. García Victu and Eduardo Poey, physicians; José Costa, Yemes D. Devine, Raimundo Reyes, J. F. Tracks, Mario Hurutads, pharmacists; Stewart Yamey, Osmund Lotrob, E. Traks, and Henry Cathiart, artillerymen; Navier Lopez, sleerician, and Naviero Lopez, telegraph operator, The cargo consisted of 1,050 Remington and Mauser rifles, some revolvers, two Hotchkiss guns, and 480 rounds for them, 525,000 cartidges, 2,000 pounds of dynamite, two electric batteries, 10,000 feet of insulated wire, two telephones, and nhety cases of medicines, surgical instruments, printing material, clothing, shoes, addies, tools, and material forthe manufacture of gunpowder and cartridges.

There is no truth in the reports of another expedition from Mobile. There were in that city some sixty Cubans belonging to the second Bermuda expedition, and the fact that these men have left the city and gone to their homes in Tampa and other places in Florida may have led to the story of a new expedition. The Cuban leaders, however, are confident that in one way or another no less than ten million cartridges and fifteen thousand rifles will be sent to the patriots before summer is over. There were also among the party J. Garcia

REPULSED THE SPANIARDS. Cubane Defeat Their Attempts to Cross the

HAVANA, June 3.-Advices from Baracoa report that engagements have recently taken place between Spanish forces and bands of insurgents on the banks of the Duaba River. Owing to the heavy rains lately the river was greatly swollen, and its crossing was rendered difficult. An attempt was made, however, by a Spanish column to reach the other side, but the troops were attacked by insurgents, with the result that one soldier was killed and two were wounded. The insurgents loss is put at twenty-four, but is believed to be greater.

Continuing their march along the river, the Spanish on May 27 again attempted to cross, this time by the ford at Buenavista, but they were again attacked, and Major Gonzales Moro and eight soldiers were wounded and perished in the river, being unable to regain the shore they had left, while a Captain, a sergeant, and two privates were wounded, but succeeded in reaching the river bank. Orders have been given for reënforcements to be sent to the column by boats, but this will be difficult of execution owing to the condition of the rivers.

A force of insurgents made an attack upon Candelaria, but they were repulsed and compelled to retire. Spanish column to reach the other side, but the

ARRESTED A CUBAN PATRIOT.

He Received Two Letters in a Box of Candy and the Police Nabbed Him. KEY WEST, Fla., June 3.-Joseph Lopez was arrested on the steamer Mascotte to-day just as he was leaving Havana. Orders had been issued to search Lopez, who had been an insurgent, and if anything of a suspicious nature was found on him, to arrest him. The police had finished the search and reported everything all right and he was passed.

Shortly afterward a box of candy containing two letters was sent on board addressed to Lopez for persons in this city. Lopez opened one of the letters and took from it some money and threw the letter overboard.

This action excited the suspicion of the police, and he was immediately arrested and taken ashore. Lopez had only lately been pardoned as an insurgent and was about to leave Cuba.

His arrest is likely to cause others to be arrested, as the person who sent the packages on board has been under the surveillance of the police for some time. issued to search Lopez, who had been an in-
